...in Paris most people have mobile phones, just like in Nairobi, Kenya...

english translation at the end of the article...

14 hours after these November Friday the 13th 2015 attacks we have no more than 2 very compressed and very short videos which in proportion to the numbers reported of more than one hundred killed no graphic evidence of victims photographed by any of the thousands of mobile phones are available, not even at the stadium.

Some of the photographs showing victims are white blankets, a few scratched people, and a few terror attacks from different events, perhaps those of the weeks-long prepared multiple shootings simulations programmed for that very day "exercices sur des attentats fusillade multisites" admitted by French mainstream but calling it a frightful coincidence "une coincidence effroyable".

Pierre Carli interviewed by France 5 said it seemed incredible but nevertheless, like all French mainstream proceeded to water down the redflag coincidence to fortunate and convenient because emergency services were well prepared.

No word on where exactly those "multisites" were supposed to take place.

The stadium explosions photographic evidence so far have nothing but three smokeless sound blasts where the actual actual detonation locations are impossible to find from any available media. Remember this is being written 14 hours after the attacks.

The video above is of a witness of the attack at a restaurant explaining "in french" that she only heard things and didn't see anything because it was during the night, and what seems like an apologetic giggle in the end.

I caution not to read here that there were no victims and that it is all fake, but following through this article one is forced to conclude in comparison to other genuine attacks in history even before the availability of handheld devices of today.

The 1981 assassination Anwar Sadat is a good pre Internet example which although it was televised, the same holds true at the televised football match.

warning graphic content:

Assassination Anwar Sadat 1981. So especially to be compared are the photographs taken by more modern devices of 2013 during the Westgate shopping mall shootout in Nairobi.

Following is the kind of media you get \(warning very graphic content\) on a true terrorist shooting, when mobile phones posted images and video even as the attacks were happening at the Westgate shopping mall in Nairobi, Kenya. The attack resulted in 67 deaths including 4 attackers and 200 wounded.

But in Paris, there were more than twice the number of dead at the Westgate siege, 3 times the wounded, and, do I have to say, that even during the darkness of the night in Paris there is a lot of electric light and most people have very modern high resolution mobile devices, at least just like in Nairobi, Kenya.

With three times the dead and wounded and many times the dense population in night Paris, much more would have been expected by now.

There is a very coordinated effort on part of the media worldwide to be "prudent", but lets not confuse that with secrecy, considering the nature of these events it is laughable that the media only recently peddled propaganda to be bought at face value, bullying into shameful silence in the name of discretion and respect for the victims.

This appears to be the agenda, a bunch of bullies fear-mongering the rightly insulted intelligence of the public for a few years since Sandy Hook.

I take great care in stating the above only as an opinion because of the timing, because it is alternative media that appears to be the target along with a dishonest implementation of policy.

This is not new:

But since the Internet is around this amount of fake news represents extreme optimism on the part of a bully to get away with it all.

0:06 A: And ,mm, so there we were calmly dining

and then all of a sudden we started to think that there were firecrackers

0:10

because we knew that could normally happen this night,

0:13

but in fact we started to realize that 0:16

there were shots being fired constantly, everybody dropped to the ground

0:20 and some people started to scream, just to my side there was this 0:25

little girl in panic,

0:25 hmms...

0:28And so we realized it was a shooting (taking place)

0:30

and we heard people yelling to get out but I was on the ground,

0:33

we realized there were people dead or wounded maybe,0:37

(because?)I saw some people on the ground, then, anyway,

0:39

there were emergency services arriving , and hm, happened very fast...

Q: Could you see, or hear other's identify a suspect?

A: No, we didn't see anything at all, because in fact it was, hmm, it was (at) night, therefore it was a bit complicated, and as I explained, (...) after a few minutes we were told that we could exit that there was no further danger and so at that moment we could see

Q: Thank you

A: (...) so it (...)the temptative, (giggles)

Q: Thank you Camille for your...(end of clip)
